Global Reach

Our members are based both in the United Kingdom and abroad, including the United States and South Africa. Our global reach is extensive, members having worked across Africa, the Caribbean, Northern and Eastern Europe, the United States, China, and the Pacific. We have an excellent network of local contacts and a real understanding of the cultures, as well as the national and local politics of the countries in which we work. We believe this is critical for the success of any international project.

Our members are highly experienced, steeped in strong ethical traditions and with fiercely independent minds. The range of expertise we provide, and our ability to complement our team with practising barristers in Chambers means that RL Consulting can offer a one stop shop for a client both in the UK and abroad.

Wide-ranging Expertise

RL Consulting has the expertise to suit a broad range of clients from governments, multilateral and international organisations, corporations, legal and accountancy firms, judicial training institutes, NGOs, consultancies and more. We are open to collaboration and partnership with other consulting entities where a particular project needs such cooperation.
